Compliance Magazine Recognizes Innovative Safety Products

Richmond, Va. — Compliance Magazine presented the 8th Annual Commitment to Worker Safety Awards at the National Safety Congress on Nov. 6 in San Diego. The award recognizes achievements and innovation in safety equipment product development. The winners also appear in the November/December issue of Compliance Magazine, as well as in the magazine's Email Report.

A panel of industry experts evaluated each entry based on innovation, impact on worker safety, and ease of use. The following safety professionals participated in the 2006 judging panel:

- Jim E. Lapping, PE, CSP, Director of Safety, Power Maintenance and Constructors, L.L.C.
- Mike Patsche, Safety Compliance Manager, EEI Holding Corporation

Andrew Dwyer, publisher, Compliance Magazine, says, "Compliance Magazine is honored to recognize these innovative products and services for the safety industry. There are many people in the industry who are doing great things to improve worker safety, and Compliance Magazine continues to hold up these 'safety stars' through its award programs for products, training and leadership excellence."

The 2006 winners are:

- Training: Brady Corp., Arc Flash Training Aids
- Online Services: 3E Co., Ariel WebInsight 4.0
- Eye Protection: Uvex, a Bacou-Dalloz Co., Uvex Protege Safety Eyewear
- Fall Protection: DBI-SALA/Capital Safety Group, i-Safe Intelligent Safety System
